PLANT IS A PROPHET.

Predicts Great Things for Florida.

H. B. Plant, president of the Plant System, in an interview with an Atlanta Constitution reporter, says:

"The truth is, the orange groves of central Florida, which were well taken care of, have suffered but little from the cold wave. The frost that killed many of the orange trees a year ago was the first disastrous frost we have had in that region of the state for thirty-two years. There will probably not be another frost for many years to come.

"But with all this there will be a fair crop of oranges grown in Florida this year. Of course, the yield will not be shown on the market as abundantly as it has been for a number of years past, and, of course, the scarcity of oranges in the market will make the price go up to some degree, but at the same time there will not be such a loss to the public as will be naturally anticipated after all the scare-crow stories that have been published in the newspapers of the northern market centers.

"There is one pleasing observation to make concerning the disaster which befell the farmers of Florida last year, and that is, that the cold wave which killed their orange crop and groves has taught them the lesson of diversified crops, and they are now busy with the truck farms, growing such things as tomatoes, cabbage, beans, and many such things, which find a ready market in the eastern and northwestern cities long before there is the slightest evidence of verdure in the rural districts of those sections.

"I believe that this cold wave will prove a blessing in disguise to many of the farmers of Florida. Perhaps they may never have such a killing frost again, but at the same time they are making money on other crops and are not dependent on the orange groves and sunshine entirely."

Henry C. Stevens, the popular young jeweler at Burnett's, is the faithful and efficient president of the Loyal Temperance Legion, and presided with great ease and dignity over the entertainment in the Witness hall the other night. It is gratifying to find a young man these days actively enlisted in the temperance cause.

CHANGED HANDS.

Charles Constans, the wide awake fruit dealer, has purchased the stand of William Gray on Exposition street, and will continue to run both stands on a larger and more improved scale. The Gray stand, under the management of its former popular owner, had a heavy trade, and we bespeak for Mr. Constans a continuance of the good will and patronage of the people of Ocala. Mr. Constans, since his arrival in our city, has made a deserved success of his business.

Robert Taylor, freight agent at the Florida Southern freight depot, with his pleasant ways and strict attention to business, makes it a pleasure to transact business with him. Mr. Taylor is becoming very popular in our city, and has already gathered many friends around him.

The Ocala Steam Laundry will be glad to have all of its patrons call and see the way goods are handled and be convinced that the best of care is taken of goods.
